

I am pleased that the President has signed the agreements with Colombia, Panama, and South Korea into law, opening a major opportunity for American small businesses and workers. By leveling the playing field for U.S. goods and services entering these three countries, the agreements will provide a significant boost to our economy and create an estimated 250,000 new jobs, including jobs both on and off the farm in Northern California. They are an example of bipartisan support for real, permanent economic stimulus at no cost to American taxpayers. I am glad these win-win agreements are finally set to take effect.
